

Silk, Porcelain & Tea

Jingdezhen
The Porcelain Capital

Quanzhou
Where the World Met China

*Before Wedgwood.
Before Lipton.
There was another story.*

JOIN US AS WE EXPLORE...

Why was Jingdezhen the world's porcelain capital for over 1,000 years?

How did tea become Britain's favourite drink?

What did silk, porcelain and tea really travel with?
(Not just goods, but people, ideas and cultures.)

Why was Quanzhou once the busiest port in the world?

STAY FOR CHINESE TEA

After the talk, we'll spend another 30 minutes tasting several traditional Chinese teas while sharing stories from our Silk Road journey.
